Preface

This textbook has been prepared in accordance with the prescribed curriculum of the Universities in India focused on the solutions of problems to each topic in financial management. The book is designed to present the basic aspects of solving financial management problems to the students. The presentation of the book has been kept simple, understandable and logical so as to help the students from different academic background. Hence they can be able to easily assimilate the subject matter and do well in their University Examination. The primary objective of developing this text is to provide students and instructors a solid foundation on solutions to the financial management. Each of the chapters covers important problems from the topics. Moreover, the book has been written in a direct style that we hope students and instructors can use the relevant problems and illustrations in it. Obviously, this book indicates a helping hand to show the students to resolve the problems very easily. It is trusted that the authors have produced this book as a simple guide for applications of financial management in practical form. The authors acknowledge a great sense of gratitude to the support extended by their colleagues and others for having helped them considerably during the preparation of this manuscript. The authors extend a special thanks to Rev. Fr. Dr Paulachan K J, Principal of Naipunnya Group of Institutions Dr. Jacob. P.M, Director of Naipunnya Business School, for their constructive suggestions. Wish you good luck.
