Dedication

To my beloved family, hope this book will be of great importance to you and help you live successful and prosperous lives.

To my beloved Bishop, Prophet T Ngwenya, your desire to see other people have better lives really inspires.

To my beloved dad, Ringisai Mtunze, my hero and great teacher.

To my beloved students, in your struggle to discover what work to do in life and become valuable and successful people where ever you are.

To the one who love other people and want to positively change their lives and see them have life filled with success, prosperity and good health.

To the manufacturer of all inherent abilities.

Preface

After seeing so many people who have graduated from universities having degrees and good certificates yet still, they're finding it hard to discover what to do in their lives, I realized there is something missing here. Looked around creation and saw something very interesting; nothing that is here was created for no reason. Everything that I saw had a specific purpose and was fulfilling its purpose. I also looked to see if I can find the source of value for each and everything and realized that there is one common thing, everything is created with its own value inside itself and by fulfilling its purpose it becomes far much more valuable to all other things around it. I also saw that abilities of each and everything complement its purpose that is purpose determines abilities while also abilities determining purpose. Many people want to discover their source of value in this world, they want to know what it is that will make them valuable on this earth yet they are searching for their answers outside of themselves. Many students are studying very hard and come out with very good results yet they are not becoming effective in the world, they are not experiencing the success they desire because they are expecting something outside of themselves to make them successful in life. I looked and saw that knowledge is very important but having much knowledge and not knowing how to use that knowledge is as the same as not having any knowledge at all. In this book I help you see that knowing your inherent abilities is the key to your success and knowledge refine you to become the best version of yourself. In this book I mainly focus on bringing the individual's attention to himself or herself and help you discover that unique thing about yourself, help you discover your own place of function and see how the use of your abilities will help you to become the person you are meant to be. I searched in all successful people and also found out one common thing, what makes them successful is what they already have inside them and also saw that what they know about themselves makes them very effective in what they do. This book will make you focus mostly on yourself and see how you can discover your Inherent value by studying mostly what you already have inside you. You are born with all the key abilities to make you become a valuable person in this world, in this book you will go through the key principles that will help you discover the truth about yourself and lead you to becoming one most successful person in your own place of function. You are the key to your own success, knowledge alone without knowing what makes you unique will not help much.

Note: The keys in this book are not meant to tell you what to do but to help open up your eyes and see that it's possible for you to become successful like others.

Acknowledgements

Writing this book was a success because of a number of very special people who helped with all their support to make sure that completion of this book becomes a success. I humbly give thanks to my good parents who stood by me all the time, taught me and guided me to become the person I am today. It is a big blessing to have parents like them.

I would like to give thanks to Prophet Thabiso Ngwenya Head of the Faith in Christ International Church (FCI) He gave me good teaching, valuable words of guidance and good counsel that helped me believe I can be valuable to other people.

I owe my gratitude to my good friend Prachi Panthari. Since the day I discussed about the idea of writing this book ,she was always there motivating me in all manner of ways ,encouraging me to keep on writing, even in times when I felt like I could not do it, she was there supporting me with words of encouragement and correction . Completion of this book was a success because of her.

I give thanks to Prophet Uebert Angel for great words of teaching and motivation that gave me courage to write this book.

I also want to thank my mentor Dr. Isha Talwar , I remember the first day I stepped on the stage to give my first motivational speech, I was afraid and timid but she strengthened me to stand up in front of people and do what I'm passionate about. She helped me overcome the fear of failure and encouraged me to focus on my goals. When I was facing problems and needed help academically she was always there to help and listen. To the success of this book her mentorship is greatly appreciated.

I also owe my gratitude to Dr. Ikra Rahat. She told me that there is greatness inside me and helped me to believe that God has uniquely designed me for something great. Her help with good mentorship and academic guidance has made me succeed in my studies. To the success of this book her advice, support and guidance are really appreciated.

I give thanks to my friends Dillon Chikocho student of Bachelors of pharmacy and Gilbert Kombe, graduate of computer programming. They were always there to listen when I needed someone to discuss with. Their friendship is really a blessing.
